Senior DirtDog:

In twenty years of land brokering and consulting, I have never met an individual who so embodies the word "professionalism" as do you. Fortunately for our profession and for the Realtor's Land Institute, words such as: "ethical", "responsible", "insightful" and "instructive" are among your many attributes.

Fortunately for me, words such as: "generous", "patient" and "gracious" are among your many qualities. But as words go, the ones that come most to my mind when I think of you are: "Leader", "Instructor", "Colleague", "Mentor" and most of all "Friend". Mirjam and I knew that we would not be able to attend the conference in San Francisco, so our dinner with you and Linda at Charlie's was our personal tribute to the Best of the Best.

When I am asked, who I think the top land broker in our market is, I say, without hesitation, "Bill Eshenbaugh", and then sheepishly add, "I'm number two and gaining." But I know the truth, and now the rest of the nation knows it too - regardless of who sells the most land, and regardless of where the question is asked, Bill Eshenbaugh is the Best Land Realtor in the United States.

Congratulations, Bill, and God bless you!

On your heels (eating your dust),

Don Lombardi, ALC
